A

HISTORY

Of

COOPER COUNTY,

Missouri

From the first visit by White Men, in February, 1804, to
The 5th day of July, 1876

BY HENRY C. LEVENS AND NATHANIEL M. DRAKE

Luke Williams, a Baptist preacher, was a farmer, and resided about five miles west of Boonville. He is celebrated as being the first preacher in Cooper County, having located there several years before the county was organized

The act under which Cooper county was organized, located the seat of justice at the town of Boonville. This place was designated as the place for holding court, by the act under which the county was organized, which was adopted by the Legislature, and approved during the year 1818, and entitled an "act establishing a part of Howard county into a separate county, by the name of Cooper." The commissioners to locate the county seat, appointed by the Legislature, were Abel Owens, William Wear, Charles Canals, Luke Williams and Julius Emmons.

Mrs. Stephens also tells of the first church she attended in the neighborhood, which was held at the house of one of the settlers. Luke Williams, the preacher, was dressed in a complete suit of buckskin, and a great many of his audience were dressed in the same style. She was so dissatisfied with the appearance of the state of things, in this backwoods county that she cried during the whole of the services; but she soon became accustomed to the new order of things, and was well contented. At that meeting grease from the bear meat stored in the loft above the congregation, dripped down and spoiled her nice Sunday shawl, which was a fine one, brought from North Carolina, and which could not be replaced in this backwoods country.

The Williams tradition claims descendancy from Roger Williams, the founder of Rhode Island. Matilda's great grandfather, Luke, was the first preacher south of the Missouri River in Missouri. The family immigrated to Boonesville about 18 15. Matilda was born 3 miles northeast of Guthrie, Oklahoma. My grandmother didn't like the wild frontier. When she received an inheritance, at her father's death, she moved across the border into Kansas, north of Wilmot.

Do not know the exact dates, however, his son Luke Williams was born in Aug of 1776 in Va. He lived in VA for the next 20 years for sure but I'm not sure where. James is my brick wall. He was married to Martha Murrell. She had two brothers, Thomas and Richard who were baptist preachers. She died when Luke was very young. James had Luke train as an apprentice to a drunken blacksmith. That is all I know.

PIONEER PREACHERS WERE INTENSELY EARNEST

Zeal of Elder Luke Williams of Cooper County, Baptist pastor of Concord, first church organized south of the Missouri and west of St. Louis, was so great that he was troubled in his soul when he did unorthodox good on the Sabbath, as did Jesus of Nazareth.

The Reverend Williams, born in Virginia August 5, 1776, settled with his family, in 1817, five miles west of the present Boonville, farming in pioneer fashion and preaching nightly and Sundays, without monetary reward. He carried the Gospel afar.

One Sunday morning before starting for Concord Church, about site miles south of the present Boonville, Elder Williams was distressed because his children were crying for food and there was nothing to eat. A fat buck leaped into his garden. Reverend Williams shot and dressed it. His wife cooked venison and appetites were appeased.

With heavy heart the pastor went to the meeting-house. Weeping, he recounted the situation and his act and asked if he had done wrong. The members voted unanimously that he was right, under the circumstances.

Luke Williams and James Savage held services at Hannah Cole's Fort, within the present. Boonville in 1815, 1816 and 1817. Both were Indian fighters. On May 10, 1817, Elders Edward Turner, William Thorp, David McClain, Luke Williams, William Savage, C. W. McWilliams and others formed Concord Baptist Church. A month later Luke Williams was elected pastor.

1880 Mirabile, Caldwell, MO Census - William S. Williams - Son of Luke Williams claims his father's birthplace in Kentucky.

Baptist minister

LUKE WILLIAMS
1776-1824

Luke Williams, Sr. was born 5 August 1776 in Virginia. He is reputed to be a descendant of Roger Williams, founder of Rhode Island. (See Kansas City Star, 1 March 1953) His father was James Williams, who married Martha Murrell. She was sister to two Baptist ministers, Thomas and Richard Murrell. (Duncan, 1882)

R.S. Duncan in his 1882 History of the Baptists in Missouri has provided a short biography on Luke Williams, Sr. This book is available in the Western Americana microfilm collection.

Martha Murrell Williams died when Luke Williams was a boy. He was bound out to a blacksmith named McGlohlin, located some 150 miles from his home. After about a year, Luke fled from his master who drunk and abusive at the time. He went home, but his father brought him back to McGlohlin and had the contract rescinded. After this time, Luke stayed with his father. Together they spent much time hunting in the early settlements of Kentucky.

Duncan notes "they had some hair-breadth escapes from the Indians."

Luke Williams married on 9 July 1799 to Miss Mary "Polly" Shropshire. She was born in 1776, two months earlier than Luke. Duncan (1882) also provides an entertaining story of how Luke Williams came to be converted to the calling in the Baptist church. Both Luke and his wife were fond of dancing. One night, in 1802, while they were on the floor dancing, Polly Williams became overwhelmed by a feeling of sin. She took to prayer for guidance, soon after which she became a Baptist.

Shortly after Polly's conversion, Luke Williams was also converted and became a member alongside his wife. They belonged to the Baptist church in Powell's Valley.

Duncan's biography of Luke Williams does not establish the location of Powell's Valley. I believe it is the location by that name in the Clinch River area of Hawkins County in eastern Tennessee, not too far from where this family moved next - the Clear Fork of the Cumberland River in Kentucky.

The family located on the Clear Fork in 1804. At that time there was no settlement within 25 miles. The new settlement had 4 or 5 families in it. Luke Williams and his family lived here for 11 years. It was here that Luke Williams was called to ordination. Luke Williams is shown on the 1810 Census of Kentucky, in Knox County, at 672. At this time, he had 2 sons under age 10 and 3 daughters under age 10 and 1 daughter between 10 and 16. He and his wife are shown as being born between 1765 and 1785. They were both actually born in 1776.

In the Fall 1815, the Luke Williams family started for Missouri. They spent one year in Illinois where Luke rented a farm, made a crop, sold it, bought some cattle and continued westward to Missouri in the Fall of 1816.

Arriving in Cooper County in 1816, Luke Williams settled on a farm some 5 miles west of the present town of Boonville. Here he built his home - a log cabin. The History of Howard and Cooper County, at page 703, notes that Luke Williams lived on Cold Camp Creek.

On the 10th of May, 1817, the Concord Church was organized in Cooper County. This was the first church organized in Cooper County. Luke Williams was the first pastor. The founding members included his wife Polly Williams, William Savage, Mary Save, Delaney Bolen, Judith Williams, Susanna Savage, Charles Williams, Patsey Bolen, and Elizabeth Williams, among others. The church was located south of Boonville, about 5 miles. All that remains now is the Concord Cemetery, which the author visited in 1990 and 1993.

In 1818, Luke Williams was appointed as one of the commissioners to locate the county seat for Cooper County. The Cooper County voting record of 1819 notes that both Luke Williams resided in Lamine Township, which included the town of Boonville.

The 1876 Levens and Drake History of Cooper County, in describing an early church service, notes "Luke Williams, the preacher, w

Family History as written by Pauline Wenger Gallant - December 1984
(Daughter of Alta Williams Wenger)

W.S. Williams and Julia F. Williams

The tombstone of W.S. Williams is in Corning, MO., cemetery
(correction made in 1/2001 tombstone is located in Corning, Nemaha County, KS) He died at the age of 69 years, 18 months and 16 days.
Very little is known about this union. William S. served with the armed forces during the Civil War. He was not heard from for several years during this time so his wife married or lived with another man, thus giving John Williams half brothers and half sisters. Apparently the family was reunited when W.S. returned from the war. I have a picture of W.S. and Julia taken in their later years.

Notes for JOHN WILLIAMS:

Family History as written by Pauline Wenger Gallant - December 1984
(Daughter of Alta Williams Wenger)

John Williams, father of Alta, was born on a farm near Cameron, Mo., Caldwell County, Dec 6, 1856 and died at his home 4 miles west of Powhattan, Kansas after a brief illness on Sunday morning, April 27, 1930, at the age of 73 years. John's ambition was to become a teacher so after completing the 8th grade, he attended Campbell College in Holton, Kansas. He was engaged in teaching a number of years. On March 9, 1880 he was married to Fannie Baker Estep to which union 7 daughters and 2 sons were born. For 47 years John resided on the farm where he died. All of his children attended his funeral and he is buried in the Powhattan Cemetery. I was 11 years old when my grandfather, John Williams died. I remember him as a man who respected a sharp mind, who read a lot, enjoyed teaching his grandchildren to read and sing. His tuning fork, which I have and was given to me by Aunt Susie just before her death, was the instrument he used in teaching me my first music when I was a little girl. I remember him as a fairly tall slender man with white hair, white mustache, and grey eyes. He chewed tobacco. His teeth were stained with tobacco juice, but they were his own. He loved to hunt, particularly coon hunt. When he could not sleep at night, he would call out his two coon hounds and take off for the woods just south and east of his house. These treks were frequent trips with him as he was a man of impatience and nervous energy. As his grandsons grew older, he would take them hunting with him. One night he invited my dad Paul to go with him. My dad said to him, "No, I don't want to go. I ain't lost no coons." I spent much time with my grandparents, walking to their home after school. No one could make baking powder biscuits like grandma. She used real butter and cream in blending them, put them in a heavy iron pan in her big wood stove oven and they would bake out all golden brown crispy edges and BIG. Gosh, they were delicious.

John provided the livelihood for his family by doing some farming, hitching his horse to a one-bladed plow and pushing the plow between the two handles, the reins were tied around his waist. Grandpa also sold pelts for $1 each.

Alta remembers that she was "scared to death of dad". She said he never hurt her. She remembers that her dad loved to study the stars, and when there was any change in the solar system, he would get the kids out of bed in the middle of the night to go outside and explain the phenomenon to them. They would sit on the front steps during this apparition and "nearly freeze to death". John would get fidgety about 4:00 A.M. every morning, get out of bed and the whole family and make them get up too. They would all sit around the breakfast table, kerosene lamp lit, and wait for daylight so they could go to school.

I was torn up when my grandfather died. He had been feeling under par for several days and on Sunday morning our family drove to his home to spend the day. When we arrived, he was sitting in his chair in the kitchen. I followed my usual custom of sitting on his lap and inspecting his pocket watch. A short time later he had an "attack" was taken to his bed and died within a couple of minutes. Grandma stayed right by his side. A doctor was phoned but after he died the call was cancelled. The undertaker, Mr. Rake of Horton, Kansas laid grandpa out to rest in his casket in his own parlor, with netting draped over the upper part of his body. Neighbors came in for two nights to keep the wake before he was buried. John was not a church going person but among his papers was found a little note in his handwriting dated March 3, 1896, "Walk worthy of God who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory." A little gem he wrote for me one time was "The purest gem that mortal times afford is a spotless reputation."

Grandpa kept a green wooden box on top of the kitchen cabinet. Along with his important papers, he kept his chewing tobacco, a little brown bag of horehound candy, his tuning fork, and some brown sugar. No one dared look in his box but he always brought it out to give us a little candy or sugar.

His mode of transportation was his spring wagon. He used this to drive to Powhattan for provisions. The Williams family was so large and so close that this just made up their world. This was a place where I could go, be received kindly, and made to feel at home. It was quiet place when just the three of us were there. I shall always cherish the memory of that warmth and peace.

Notes for CLARENCE ARON WILLIAMS:

Obituary - Clarence Aaron Williams was born Sept 1, 1885 near Corning, Kansas, Nemaha County, departed this life Jan. 31, 1936 at his home in Holton, Kansas at the age of 50 years, 5 months, after only a brief illness of about two weeks. Influenza followed by a couple of heart attacks was the direct cause of his death. On February 25 he was united in marriage to Veva Blanch Holt, of Bancroft who with their 4 children survive. They are: Mrs. Frank Scoby, of Fairview, Kansas, Mrs. Robert Noble, of Holton, Kansas, Sylvia, Kenneth of the home. Also his mother, Mrs. John Williams; one brother, O.J. Williams, of Powhattan, Kansas; 7 sisters, Mrs W.C. Kiely, of Alma, Kansas., Mrs. A.B. McCrerey, of Hiawatha, Kansas, Mrs. H.B. Meyer of Effingham, Kansas, Mrs Floyd Wright of Hiawatha, Kansas, Mrs. E.W. Winterscheidt of Fairview Kansas, Mrs. Paul Wenger, of Powhattan, Kansas. He also leaves a host of other relatives, friends. His father, John Williams preceded him in death 6 years ago on April 27, the first link broken in the family circle. Clarence, with his wife, settled in a farm in Nemaha county where the children were born, reared. Nine years ago he sold the farm, moved to St. Marys, where he operated a filling station, later moving to Holton where he resided until his unexpected death. He united with the Christian church of Powhattan in 1913. He was also a member of the mens class of the Evangelical church of Holton. He was a kind, loving father, will be sadly missed by his devoted wife, family. The funeral services were held at the Porterfield Gable funeral home conducted by Rev. Mr. Best Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" "City Four Square" were beautifully rendered by a quartet composed of Harry Cabbage, Eldred Lowry, Oren Lowry, Arthur Gatewood. The body bearers were 6 of his close friends. After the short, impressive service the body was laid to rest in the Ontario cemetery.

Clarence Williams, son of Mrs. John Williams, passed away in Holton January 30, He is survived by his wife and four children, seven sisters and one brother. The relatives have the community's sincerest sympathy. [2440088.ged]
